"WASHINGTON AND EAST ALEXANDRIA R. R."-From a communication in the Washington Patriot, signal G. L. W. Superintendent, relative to this proposed road, we extract the following: "At the junction of the roads at First street east we strike the great coal railroal, which, without doubt, in less than three years will be the greatest bituminous coal-earrying road in the United States, as with this Alexandria link the Metropolitan road will reach tide-water first at the Anacostia river, in the harbor of the Washington Navy Yard, thence about four miles further, which is run through and over one of the most avilable routes in the world for a railroad, to a point on the Potomac river, that point being about thirty-five miles nearer the Cumberland coal mines than Locust Point, near Bailtunore, where the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company delivered last year about seventeen hundred thousand tons of coal, and about forty miles nearer than Georgetown is; by canal; therefore, coal can be delivered at a point opposite Alexandria, from forty to fifty cents per ton cheaper than it can be, either at Locust Point or Georgetown, as it has to come about twenty miles by cars to Cumberland before it is shipped into boats for Georgetown or Alexandria; thus establishing the fact, beyond contradiction, that Alexandria, with this little road, is to be the great coal depot of the Cumberland coal mines, as boats may load at these docks almost any day in the year and sail from there to any port of the world. As Alexandria is a much better harbor than Baltimore or Georgetown, now I would ask, is it "descrating" the streets of Washington to permit this great project to be carried out by allowing the use of one street. about fifteen blocks, to carry coal over it, that would be a saving to the consumers of just one article in Cumberland coal, of at least one million of dollars a year, upon the quantity carried to market last year by the railroad and canal, the latter carrying about six hundred thou-

THE LATE C. G. BROWN.—At a meeting of the members of the Commercial Exchange, held at the Exchange, this morning, Geo. H. Robinson, President, in the chair, and H. S. Wattles. Secretary, the following resolutions, prepared by the committee, appointed yesterday, were reported by the chairman, P. B. Hooe, and seconded by C. F. Suttle in a few well chosen and most appropriate remarks, feelingly delivered, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the Commercial Exchange have received with profund sorrow, the intelligence of the death of their late associate and friend, C. G. Brown.

Resolved, That in his death we feel the loss of a worthy and active member of the Association, whose presence, with his genial and generous disposition, will be sadly missed from our daily meetings.

Resolval, That we tender our sincere sympathies to his afflicted wife and daughter, to whom he was a most devoted and indulgent husband and father.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the minutes, and one, signed by the President and Secretary of the Association, be transmitted to the family of our deceased friend.

The meeting then adjourned.

MYSTERY SOLVED. - Considerable excitement was created in the neighborhood of the first toll gate, on the Middleburg Turnpike. yesterday, by the finding near the culvert, just beyond that place, of a stick or club covered with blood and matted hair-said to be human. Messrs. David, J. C. and J. H. Watkins, on their way home from market, being informed by Mr. Penn, the keeper of the toll-gate, of the circumstance, and told that blood stains could be seen where the stick was found, determined, if possible, to solve the mystery, and for that purpose went to the culvert. There, sure enough, they found the ground covered with blood, and by tracing the stains a few steps came upon a mound of sand which, they supposed, was the grave of a human being. Mr. J. C. Watkins at once rolled up his sleeves and pushing his hand down through the soft and moist sand felt what he thought were the ribs of a child, and then caught hold of what he took for its arm. Grasping this firmly, he pulled up from its place of burial, a hound that had been killed and skinned. And so the day's mystery was solved.

MAYOR'S OFFICE. - The only cases at the Mayor's office this morning were one for disorderly conduct, and some colored men supposed to be implicated in a theft. All were discharged.

MAGISTRATE'S OFFICE, -In the case of William Agan vs. James Smith, for unlawful retention of plaintiff's house, Justice Beach gave a judgment against the defendant.

NIGHT REPORT.-Night cloudy after ten o'clock, and warm. There were no disturbsuces in any quarter of the city and the streets were as quiet as usual. One prisoner only was at the station house, and he was turned loose before morning.

GOLDEN WEDDING .- Mr. and Mrs. James Entwisle entertained about a hundred and fifty of their relatives and friends at their residence, north Royal street, last night, upon the occasion of their golden wedding. On the night of Thursday, the 6th day of June 1822, they were joined together in the holy bonds of wedlock, and last night, after the lapse of fifty years, in a green old age, they renewed the vows of love they had taken in their youth. Their guests presented them with many costly tokens of the veneration and esteem in which they are held, and the evening was spent in delightful social KNOCKED DOWN AND STUNNED.-Two boys named Travis and Smith, pupils of the public school at the corner of Royal and Cameron streets, were put under an empty hogshead by their school mates yesterday and douched with water. When released Travis picked up a rock and threw it at a colored boy who was bringing more water to throw upon them, but missed his aim and struck another pupil named Gus. White, hitting him on the head, knocking him down, and so stunning him that he had to be carried to his home.

Vicious Cow .- Mr. Edward Lawler and his wife went, this morning, to the yard of Mr. G. W. Clifford, on Water street, to look at a cow that gentleman had to sell. Hardly, however, had they entered the yard, before the animal, which had previously acquired a reputation for proceed with the selection of the selectio viciousness, rushed at them, knocked Mrs. Lawler down, and before her husband succeeded in rescueing her, the infuriated beast had broken two of his ribbs, and badly injured his RAILROAD MATTERS,-It is said that the preliminary survey of the "Washington and East Alexandria Railroad," has been completed by the engineers, and they find the distance from Sixth street west, in Washington, and the Potomac river, opposite Alexandria, seven and one-third miles, and the maximum grade on the mile, in rear of race course, which is over the summit, is only sixty-one feet.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 7, 1872.

In the Senate, to-day, the bill for the better collection of the Internal Revenue was up, and the clause allowing the scizure of books and papers occasioned a long debate. The subject of printing the minority report of the New York Custom House Investigation was then taken up.

The House of Representatives took up and passed a number of bills on the Speaker's

table, of no general interest, was vow

The N. Y. Press on the Nominations. NEW YORK, June 7.-The Times says the Greeleyites will be unable to explain the enthusiasm and unanmity of the nominations at Philadelphia. The scene there was unprecedented. The popularity of Grant is greater than his best friends imagined, and his strength greater than politicians supposed: Confidence in him has increased since 1868. If Sumner thought his tirade could defeat that nomination what a blow his vanity has received, and what an irreparable mistake he has committed. Wilson owes his nomination to his own services and character.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Tribune to-day says the Convention did its work with neatness and dispatch. The man who had patronage to use secured its vote for a second term. The man who had not patronage could not secure its vote. Colfax is set aside with the contemptuous argument of the negro delegate," "that he saw no objection to swapping horses in the middle of a stream, provided you get a better horse. The American people propose to com-plete the swap which Philadelphia left only half finished, and in November swap the whole ticket for a better one." The Tribune reckons the wanton sacrifice more than equal to the trifling administration majority in Indiana as well as the serious blow throughout the country. With union, harmony and effort, Pennsylvania and Indiana are within the grasp of the opposition and the party which carries them in October, carries the nation in November.

New York, June 7.—The World styles the Philadelphia Convention a preposterous farce. It says the masses of the Republican party have had nothing to do with the nomination of Grant. The Convention was a mere registering body. Grant's nomina-tion was fixed on five months ago. Grant is renominated by a convention of packed office holders. He is one of the weakest candidates the republican party could put in the field. The republican party is split and shivered, and another candidate might have reunited it. We therefore conclude that he will be an easy man to beat.

From New York.

NEW YORK, June 7 .- The Equal Rights party held a meeting in the hall of the Cooper Union last night to ratify the nominations of Woodhull and Douglass by the Apollo Hall Convention. The proceedings were boisterous. Considerable disturbances occurring among the strikers in Brooklyn. Yesterday a number of them visited the plaining mill of White & Co., and called on the men at work there, about one hundred in number, to "knock off, but the workers refused. A force of police then arrived on the ground and the strikers dispersed. The barbers propose to strike Monday unless their employers reduce the hours of work.

A Bridgeport special says the latest developments in the case of Captain Colvocoresses indicate that he had a fearful struggle with his assailants. The case of his sword cane when found was broken to pieces and the blade of the sword bent double. An examination into his affairs shows that $15,000 in government bonds are missing. It is generally beleived he was murdered by parties who supposed he had a large amount of money on his person.

Political.

NEW YORK, June 7 .- A New Orleans special says the Democratic Convention last night nominated delegates to the Baltimore Convention, all of whom are understood to be against any Democratic nomination at Baltimore. A meeting of the the joint committee was held in the evening at which the propositions of the liberal republicans were rejected by a vote of 17 to 7. A counter proposition ignoring the national question was then rejected by a vote of 14 to 10 The committee finally resolved to nominate a ticket exclusively from the Democratic and Reform organizations.

From Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Great numbers of strangers have departed, but enough remain to crowd the hotels.

The weather is again threatening rain and will probably prevent the race between Goldsmith Maid and Lucy, which has already been twice postponed on account of rain.

Railroad Bridge Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The Lyndon railroad bridge, eleven hundred feet long, on the Philadelphia and Erie road, five miles west of Williamsport, was burned last night. This will not impede travel as a new branch has been built recently on the opposite side of the river and trains will go that way.

Probabilities. - Cloudy weather and rain will extend over the Middle States during the day and evening, with southeasterly to southwesterly winds, and over New England to night. Southerly winds and increased cloudiness for the South Atlantic States, with probably threatening weather over the northern portion to-night. Partially cloudy weather and southerly winds, veering to westerly, for the Gulf States. Rising barometer, northerly to westerly winds and clearing weather will extend eastward over Wisconsin and Illinois during the day, and over the Ohio valley and to the Lower Lake region to-night. Dangerous winds are not anticipated.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A DEAD DELUSION.-The theory that human beings, whose strength has been exhausted by pain and sickness, can be restored by depleting medicines and water gruel, if not absopleting medicines and water gruel, if not absolutely a dead delusion, is in the last agonies of dissolution. At length it is understood that strength cannot be purged into a debilitated frame, though life may easily be purged out of it, and that it is about as wise to withhold a lealthful stimulant from the weak, in the expectation that they will rally without one, as it would be to degrive a large of oil and expect it.

would be to deprive a lamp of oil and expect it to burn the brighter for it.

The immense and uniform success which has attended the use of that wonderful combination of a pure stimulant with the finest medicinal third in wood; several springs. herb; known as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has largely assisted in di pelling the absurd chimera. Frantic attempts are made to revive it, but in vain. When the sick feel that their strength is departing, and that unless invigorated they must utterly break down, it is in vain to tender them feculent slops in the place of genuine restoratives. They may be imposed upon in this way once but the imposition canupon in this way once, but the imposition can-not be repeated. They desire to be refreshed, comforted, braced up, and decline to be griped second time.

Under the operation of the Bitters, on the other hand, all the processes necessary to physical restoration go on simultaneously. The system isstimulated and tone i, the bowers regulated the appetite cultivated, the nerves composed and the condition of the bl od improved at one and the same time by a single medicine. AN IMPORTANT CONSIDERATION .- Dr Tutt's Liver Fills are purely vegetable, and are adapted to young and old, male and female, and may be taken at all times, without restraint of occupation, without change of living, without diet, and without the fear of taking cold, during all kinds of weather, and in all climates.

Dear Sir-You make two preparations which it appears to me, are worthy of a more general acceptance than they have had as yet, probably because they have not been "puffed" in the rewspapers. I allude to your Liver Pills and Aronatic Elixir of Citrate of Caffeine. The former have been used in my own cose-torner of mer have been used in my own case—torpor of the liver—and in my family with a marked success, and I believe them superior in all biliary derangements to any pills now made. The Carfeine is the only remedy that has, in my experience, proved effectual for nervous headaches. It nev r fails, and the relief it affords is delicious; for not only does the pain cease, but a pleasant exhibaration supervenes, and suffering is converted to pleasure. A vial of it is kept at home and one at my office, that I may never be without it in ease of need. Very truly yours, JOSEPH P. CARR, Attorney at Law.
